

Formal Invitation to join the International Cable Protection Committee (ICPC)

The International Cable Protection Committee \(ICPC\) would like to extend a formal invitation to your organisation to become a member of our “undersea family.” You have the opportunity to be part of more than 170 Member companies from over 60 nations that have already enrolled and contributed to the ICPC “voice” in the industry. We encourage you to join to acquire the benefits of this important international community. A current list of ICPC Member organisations can be found here: <https://iscpc.org/about-the-icpc/member-list/>.

To familiarise you with whom we are, the ICPC was founded in 1958 and its membership comprises of governmental administrations and commercial companies that own or operate submarine telecommunications or power cables, as well as other companies that have an interest in the submarine cable industry—including most of the world’s major cable system owners and cable ship operators. The primary purpose of the ICPC is to help its members to improve the security of undersea cables by providing a forum in which relevant technical, legal and environmental information can be exchanged.

We are pleased to provide the following resources to assist with your decision to join:

1. ICPC Achievements
2. ICPC Informational Videos

Membership benefits include access to a repository of technical and environmental information and probably the largest single source of legal information on international submarine cables. As a member you will have access to your fellow community members to exchange and gain expert information from one another and be able to actively participate in the annual Plenary Meeting.

Once you become a member of the ICPC, you will gain access to the member portion of the website for additional resources such as an archive of the Environment Update (which you will receive monthly), and the ICPC Newsletter (which you will receive quarterly). To read the latest industry news and to learn further about our non-profit organisation, please visit: www.iscpc.org.

Based upon your company's services, membership will be classified as either Full Membership or Associate Membership.

Full Membership is open to Submarine Cable Owners, Submarine Cable Maintenance Authorities, Submarine Cable System Manufacturers, Cable Ship Operators, Submarine Cable Route Survey Companies.

Government Membership. The ICPC recognises that submarine cable protection interests are better served if the benefits of membership are available to Governments. Government Members enjoy all the privileges of Full Membership of the ICPC except that they cannot vote or serve on the Executive Committee.

Associate Membership is available to any organisation or individual that has an interest in the submarine cable industry, wishes to be informed about its development and wants to support the ICPC in achieving its goals. Associate Members enjoy all of the privileges of Full Membership of the ICPC except that they cannot vote or serve on the Executive Committee.

Current membership fee is £2500 UK pounds per annum for Full Membership and £2200 UK pounds per annum for Associate and Government Membership.
